Conditions of Approval: All approved code variances issued by the Board or Administrator are subject to any special conditions that might be required of the owner applicant to ensure safe operation of equipment considered herein. All approved code variances are subject to review and repeal at any time when future inspections, tests, or events reveal unsafe risks or operation due to the approval of this variance. Hardships due to financial issues are not a consideration for granting a variance. All approved code variances shall be considered one-time events for an individual piece of equipment and in no way should they be considered a precedent for future variance requests. A copy of this approved variance shall be displayed in the equipment machine room.
